Teen Philosophy - My thoughts on Life, Death, Infinity, and Delusional Ideation. This is a weird yet intriguing look back at the philosophical thinking expressed in my personal diaries. In this book you will find writings delving into such subjects as a definition of the "will" of life, the powers and intentions of God, the meaning of "infinity," a philosophical discussion of the difference between life and death, and the implications of recognizing that the Being we think of as "God" may be prone to error. This is a profoundly personal and introspective glimpse into the mind of a young man, who emerging from his teens is just beginning to search for answers to the questions of life, death, God, and his own existence. This autobiography recounts a twenty-year quest to experience an authentic faith in God. It wrestles conventional spirituality in ways previously unimagined, beginning with the biblical account of Jesus cursing a fig tree and the power this obscure image held in the author's mind. The quest spans college years at America's top evangelical college, his rejection of Christianity, a flight to Kodiak, hallucinogenic drugs, and a crazy motorcycle trip back to Alaska during the winter. There he meets a seventeen year old hippie girl reading Zelda Fitzgerald and they wonder together if they can fall in love like Zelda and Scott and beat madness. After an unlikely two-year courtship, they marry, and become Baptist Christians. They then return to "the lower 48," jumping full force into the Nashville music industry, and experience the break-up of a twelve-year marriage as all goes bust -- and finally, a revisiting from the curse of the fig tree story with fresh meaning and a hidden revelation. Beauty: A Star-Laced Photograph is the second book in the Tripping the Light Fantastic trilogy. It covers the protagonist's fall into a schizophrenic break following his son's brutal death and his subsequent struggle to recover. It also encompasses his search for love in the twenty-first century and the beauty he sees in life. It asks the question, "Can a disabled man find his true love in today's fast-paced world of greed and lust?"
