The volume takes as its starting point the marginal position of contemporary Italian travel writing in the Italian literary system, and proposes a comparative reading of originals and translations designed to highlight the varying reception of texts in different cultures. Two main themes in the book are the affinity between the representations produced by travel and the practices of translation, and the complex links between travel writing and genres such as ethnography, journalism, autobiography and fiction. Individual chapters are devoted to Italian travellers' accounts of Tibet and their English translations; the hybridization of journalism and travel writing in the works of Oriana Fallaci; Italo Calvino's sublimation of travel writing in the stylized fiction of Le città invisibili; and the complex network of literary references which marked the reception of Claudio Magris's Danubio in different cultures. Excerpt from Travellers' Colloquial Italian: A Handbook for English-Speaking Travellers and Students, Idiomatic Italian Phrases, With the Exact Pronunciation, Represented on a New System Based Upon a Scientific Analysis of Italian Sounds, With Other General Information Useful to Travellers in Italy The recent researches Of Alexander J. Ellis, Melville Bell, Paul Passy, Henry Sweet, and others, have led to a close and accurate knowledge Of the various Spoken sounds in a language, and it is the application Of these researches, with other original remarks in a popular and useful form, which it is the purpose Of this series of handbooks to serve.
